

Directions to Project Opportunity

Driving

Project Opportunity can be accessed by entering the University of Maine campus from College Avenue at either the Long Road (north side) or Munson Road (south side) entrances. Both of these entrances are well marked with a University of Maine sign. Directions to the campus are available through the University of Maine and Project Opportunity websites. A printable University Map is also available through the University of Maine and Project Opportunity websites. This map includes building and road information.

To Project Opportunity from Long Road:

Turn right onto Munson Road. From Munson Road take a left onto Sebege Road. Then take a right onto Grove Street Extension. Near the end of Grove Street Extension, across from the Bryand Building, will be the York Complex Lot (on the right). Please see the Parking and Building Location directions for additional information.

To Project Opportunity from Munson Road:

Take a right onto Sebege Road. Then take a right onto Grove Street Extension. Near the end of Grove Street Extension, across from the Bryand Building, will be the York Complex Lot (on the right). Please see the Parking and Building Location directions for additional information.

Parking

Project Opportunity advises its' visitors to park in the first two rows of the York Complex Lot. This is the Commuter area of the lot (also called the black area). Parking in this area requires a permit. To ensure that a permit will be available to you when you visit, please request one through Project Opportunity at least one day before your visit. Workshop and conference attendees automatically have the option of picking up permits at the event location on the day of the event.

Permits are also available without prior notice from Parking and Transportation Services at several other locations on campus during regular business hours. They include the Student Service Center at the Memorial Union, Bear Necessities in the Alford Arena, the Visitor Center in Buchanan Alumni House and UMaine Public Safety on Rangeley Road which is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. A printable Parking Map with additional parking information can also be accessed online through the University of Maine and Project Opportunity websites. Please see the Building Location directions for further information.

Building Location

Project Opportunity's office space and shared conference rooms are collocated with the Margaret Chase Smith Policy Center (MCSPC) in York Complex on the University of Maine campus in Orono. York Complex is near the end of Grove Street Extension on the south side of campus. The MCSPC is located in Building 3 and 4 in the northeast corner of York Complex. The buildings are one facility that is tan colored with brown trim and is situated at the end of the York Complex Lot. An area specific interactive map is available for reference through the Project Opportunity site.

Offices:

To enter the office spaces of Project Opportunity, enter the last door off the walkway on the side of the building facing the York Complex Lot. Use of this walkway is not encouraged in winter due to the steep incline, frequent icy conditions and falling ice. Alternatively, the main entrance of the Margaret Chase Smith Policy Center can be used to access our offices and is often not as treacherous when hazardous walking conditions exist.

To access Project Opportunity's offices through the main entrance of the Margaret Chase Smith Policy Center, walk down Grove Street Extension to the double doors between York Village Building 3 and 4. The main entrance is designated by a dark blue sign next to a set of double doors. Enter the building and go through the second set of double doors. Take a right and walk through the next set of double doors and a narrow archway. On the right is an elevator with a red door. Enter the elevator and select floor 4. The elevator will open to our waiting area and offices.

Conference Rooms:

To access the conference rooms, walk down Grove Street Extension to the main entrance of the Margaret Chase Smith Policy Center between York Village Building 3 and 4. The main entrance is designated by a dark blue sign next to a set of double doors. Enter the building and go through the second set of double doors. Take a left and proceed to the end of the hall. Directly ahead you will come to Conference Room 100. If you take another left and walk past the bathrooms on your left, you will come to the Conference Room 102 on your right.
